DO YOU WANT A TRADES DAY?

The committee recently appointed to canvass the business men of Hondo to secure their co-operation in inaugurating a series of trades days here expects to make that canvass today.

Where a trades day has been successfully and systematically carried out, other towns have found them a great help both in attracting trade from a wider area and in keeping trade at home that, without inducements offered, through the medium of the trades day, would have gone to other towns. What proves helpful to other towns is bound to help Hondo.

The committee will explain all matters of detail when it calls on
you. Let's give the enterprise a hundred per cent co-operation and see if we can not build up a great trading center at Hondo.

THURSDAY BRIDGE CLUB.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By Edson R. Waite, Shawnee, Oklahoma

THAT modern business concerns realize that business comes where it is INVITED and stays where it is well treated.

CONTINUOUS NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING IS A SERVICE
EVERY BUSINESS CONCERN OWES TO THE COMMUNITY IT SERVES.

BECAUSE it takes messages into every home that will make shopping easier.

BECAUSE advertising brings information about fashions, markets and opportunities to save.

BECAUSE everyone knows in this day and time that continuous advertising is a guarantee of merit. No one need be afraid of the price or quality of advertised merchandise or service.

BECAUSE business concerns who are regular advertisers live up to their advertisements.

BECAUSE when you buy advertised goods you get the "best at the price."

NO CITY CAN HAVE PROSPERITY WHERE THE CITIZENS
DO NOT PATRONIZE EACH OTHER.

A GOOD WAY TO MAKE THE HOME CITY A SUCCESS IS FOR EVERY CITIZEN TO BUY MERCHANDISE AT THE RIGHT PLACE. THE RIGHT PLACE IS FROM THE BUSINESS CON-CERNS IN THE HOME CITY WHO INVITE YOUR BUSINESS BY ADVERTISING IN THE HOME PAPER.

TO MAKE A CITY BIGGER, BRIGHTER AND BUSIER, CITIZENS MUST PATRONIZE EACH OTHER, KEEPING BUSI-NESS AT HOME WHERE IT BELONGS. WHEN THAT IS DONE, MONEY CIRCULATES MORE FREELY, THERE IS MORE WORK,
MORE IMPROVEMENTS AND A BETTER AND HAPPIER CITY.

THE ANVIL HERALD INVITES THE PRIVILEGE OF SERVING AS YOUR PUBLICITY
MEDIUM.

LIONS AND MOSQUITOES.

Hondo Lions are fortunate in having two physicians as members, one of them, Dr. Smith, being their chairman. When the slogan "Hondo, the town without a mosquito" was suggested at the meeting last Tuesday, and the motto "The mosquito must be destroyed" was proposed, Dr. Smith outlined the method of attaining these ends. Here is the gist of his recommendations: put oil in your cisterns at regular intervals (about every two weeks); mash all tin cans on the premises flat; look after the "little" breeding places, such as where the faucet drips. The mosquitoes that bother us most are those which are bred on our own premises or in the immediate neighborhood.
Eternal vigilance is necessary on the part of all to rid our town of this source of discomfort and disease.

Who will help make Hondo "The town without a mosquito?" Secretary Jungman will please count the votes.

The program committee for next Tuesday has been ordered to try to have a state traffic official present at the next meeting to help Hondo solve a number of traffic and parking problems.

MEXICAN OFFICIAL BACK FROM HONDO.

E. G. Dominguez, secretary to Enrique Santibanez, Mexican consul general, Ricardo del Castillo and Nicolas Lopez, returned Monday from Hondo after meeting with several hundred members of the Mexican colony of Medina county Sunday afternoon. All three of the San Antonio speakers advised the Mexicans that there is very little unemployment in that county, and that they cans not to participate in politics.
among Mexicans in that county, Dominguez reported.—Monday's Light.

BRIDGE PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Bradley were hosts to the members of the Thursday Bridge Club and their guests on Wednesday night. After several games of bridge, Mrs. L. E. Heath held high score for the ladies among the members and was awarded six salad forks. Dr. T. B. Knopp held high score for the gentlemen among the members and received a leather bill fold. Among the guests, Mrs. E.
J. Leinweber held high score receiving a chiffon handkerchief and Mr.
Bennie Bradley also held high score to receive a deck of cards.

Spiced tea and chicken sandwiches were served to the following: Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Meyer, Dr. and Mrs. T. B.
Knopp, Dr. and Mrs. O. B. Taylor,
Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Smith, Judge and Mrs. Ralph Noonan, Mr. and Mrs. L.
E. Heath, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Starnes,
Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Leinweber, Mr.
and Mrs. L. E. Kollman, Mrs. C. D.
Eddleman, Mrs. John Finger, Mrs.
Volney Boon, Miss Bess Brucks, Mr.
Bennie Bradley and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Bradley.

PLAY GOLF.

A miniature golf course was opened here Saturday afternoon and a large number turned out to play the game and it held the attention of a crowd far into the night. Interested players have frequented the course every evening since the opening night.

The course is located near the deep well and is under the management of George Schuehle.

Work is progressing rapidly on another course, located on the vacant lot just west of the Richter Hotel, and it will soon be open to players under the management of the Colonial Theatre.

TEXAS AND TEXANS

TEXAS AND TEXANS.

By Will H. Mayes.

"All Texans for All Texas"

Not So Very Hot

What if the thermometer does soar around 100 some afternoons? There is nearly always a cooling breeze from the Gulf, blowing over all Texas, and any one fortunate enough to have a South window couldn't ask for better sleeping conditions. Toward the middle of the night a light blanket makes sleep more comfortable and those who use the night for sleeping, instead of for dissipation, find themselves each morning feeling fit and fine for the day's duties.
Heat in Texas doesn't take all the life out of a fellow like it does in the North and East.

Candidates Warming Up

Someone has computed that there are 7,895 candidates for office in Texas, all of them rushing frantically about trying to attract a little attention and get their names in the papers. They are the main support of the picnics and barbecues and a perpetual joy to the lemonade vendors.
Some scientists say that it is the heat radiating from the candidates that makes the weather hotter in Texas in campaign years; others attribute it to the barbecue pits, while still others say it merely seems hotter because of the mental energy that is spent in the guessing contest as to who will be elected.

Some Poor Guessers

If the candidate, especially those running for Governor, prove as inefficient in the administration of official duties as they are at guessing, the State is in for a bad year. Every aspirant for offices is declaring that he is sure to be elected, and many of them are giving the approximate figures. Common sense tells us that most of them are wrong and that the joy of campaigning and of being temporarily in the public eye is all they will get out of their efforts.
And, oh, the pains that will follow the frolic!

Good "Growing" Weather

In the mean time, the cotton and corn and feedstuffs that have been kept cultivated and free of grass and weeds are delighting in the sunshine that followed the rains of June and are bringing smiles to the faces of the farmers who haven't been taking politics too seriously. The corn and other feeds are about made. Cotton picking is under way in that section farthest South, blooms are appearing in the farthest fields north, and if the co-ops are able to win out in the contest with the market gamblers and secure a fair price for farm products, Texas farmers will have money to lend to the banks.

Dairying and Poultrying

The side lines that have done most to keep up the courage of the farmers the past year have been dairying and poultrying (if you will allow the coining of a word.) Farmers have used good judgment in depending on these more than on so-called
"farm relief." Prices have been low, it is true, but the cash has been coming in every week with which to meet current expenses and as a consequence there are fewer mortgages on cotton crops than ever before. Many farmers have been growing vegetables and fruits, for which they have found fair markets, and the shrewd diversifiers have deposits instead of debts at the banks, or else are getting out from under the debts created under the one-crop farming system.

Vocational Training

Business men of Texas are supporting with money and influence a trade school to be opened at Dallas next fall for all branches of the printing and building trades. In this day of emphasis on education, too little attention is being paid to vocational training, except for those young people who are able or inclined to take complete high school and collegiate courses. The public is too inclined to force students, whether they will or no, through the same educational mill, and to neglect the training of those who are unwilling or unable to be moulded educationally along accepted standard lines, which are too largely proscribed by impractical Ph. D's, rather than by practical craftsmen. The Dallas school will give vocational training without requiring an accompanying high school or collegiate degree.

Higher Courts Adjourn

Beginning July 1, the higher courts of Texas have all adjourned for a three months' vacation enforced upon them by the legislature of the State.
This is one of the many reasons why law enforcement comes high in Texas and why there is so much delay in court proceedings.

Port Project Pushed

Point Isabel celebrated July 4 for more than patriotic reasons. The day after to witness the beginning of the project for developing a great port there, the most southernmost in Texas. The completion of the great undertaking will place the Rio Grande Valley on even a better footing than Southern California in the marketing of winter vegetables and citrus fruits.

Producer to Consumer

Correspondence between a DeWitt county tomato grower and a Canadian consumer, originating from a card packed with the tomatoes, revealed that the Canadian paid 35 cents a pound for tomatoes for which the grower received 1 1/2 cents. Of course it is expensive to ship Texas tomatoes into Canada, but very few persons will believe that the Texas grower received enough of that 35 cents.

Summer Tourists Numerous

Texas tourist resorts all report a large increase in early summer tourist travel over former years. Many of the hotels and camps were filled throughout June. In the San Antonio section, especially, an unusually large number of out-of-state automobiles are noticed on the roads and in the camps. Texas is attracting a summer tourist trade that almost equals the winter trade.

Grapes Ripen Early

An Edinburg grape grower, with a 35-acre vineyard in which vines 15 months old are producing in marketable quantities, has succeeded in ripening grapes six weeks in advance of the same varieties grown in California, the quality being equally as good as California grapes. Texans are finding that there are few products grown anywhere else that cannot be grown as well or better in Texas.

Textile Mill Progress

Work is being pushed on the installation of machinery and improvement of the grounds of the textile mill at Marble Falls. Several cottages are being completed and the mill grounds are being landscaped and parked in keeping with the beautiful setting of the mill plant on the banks of the Colorado river. Marble Falls has been a long while realizing its desire for a textile mill and is all the happier now that it is a worthwhile achievement.

Edgar Davis Back

Edgar Davis, who made his fortune in oil near Luling and who insists that he is a Texas citizen despite the tax ruling of a New England State, is back in Texas. This columnist hopes he will stay and will stick around so closely that there will never be occasion to dispute again his Texas citizenship. Texas needs more men like Edgar Davis, men whose hearts are as big as their pocket books.

Longview Improves

The census enumerators couldn't find any increase in the population of Longview in the past ten years, but the Longview News lists more than 50 evident improvements, mostly industrial, that show conclusively that "that old town ain't what it used to be." A look at the town by one who knew it back in '20 shows that much energy has been used in its improvements that make for good living, and but few of the objectionable characteristics so often found in larger places.

MESDAMES MONKHOUSE AND EPHRAIM HOSTESSES AT BRIDGE.

One of the prettiest parties of the season was the bridge given by Mrs.
Charles Monkhouse and Mrs. J. P.
Ephraim of D'Hanis at the home of the former on Tuesday afternoon.
Summer flowers of zinnias, daisies,
tube roses and fern were used artist-ically for the decorations of the rooms. Mrs. Knopp won high score and received a Madeira luncheon cloth. Mrs. Meyer won second high and received a set of Madeira napkins. Mrs. Noonan won the consolation cut prize, a Madeira tray cloth.

Guests were Mesdames M. Broxton, Herbert Decker, Lou Heath, P.
Jungman, Robert Kollman, L. E.
Kollman, Elmer Leinweber, Garland
Martin, Oscar Miller, Eugene Mofield,

MEDINA COUNTY FAIR DIREC- TORS MEET.

The directors of the 1930 Medina County Fair, which is to be held on the 8, 9, 10 and 11 of November, had their regular meeting at Chamber of Commerce Hall. All members promised to do their very best to make the 1930 Fair better than any we have had yet. A committee was appointed to get advertising for the catalogue. They also gave the fair grounds a going over and decided to make several different arrangements for the fair. Meetings of the Directors are held on the second Tuesday night in each month.

LACOSTE LEDGERETS.

From The LaCoste Ledger.
GROFF-ECHTLE.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Mary's Catholic Church at LaCoste at 8:30 o'clock, Tuesday morning, July 1, 1930, when Miss Teresa Echtle became the happy bride of Mr. Oscar Groff of San Antonio. Rev. James Marsollier performed the ceremony and officiated at the Nuptial High Mass.

The bridal party entered the church to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin in the following order: Miss Rose Echtle, sister of the bride and Walter Groff, brother of the groom, Miss Alice Groff, sister of the groom, and Leo Echtle, brother of the bride, followed by the bride leaning on the arm of her brother, Ernest Echtle. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best-man, Wilfred Groff.

After the ceremony at the church the bridal party and invited guests repaired to the home of the bride's father where an elegant dinner was served to about 80 guests.

The bride is the charming and accomplished daughter of Mr. Paul Echtle from here while the groom is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Groff of San Antonio.

The newly wedded couple left in the evening on a honeymoon trip to Denver, Colorado, after which they will make their home in San Antonio. We join the many friends of the couple in wishing them a long and happy married life.

FLETCHER'S FARMING PATTERNS

AN UP TO DATE STYLE FOR THE GROWING GIRL.

6865. This youthful model expresses the latest style features, cleverly designed for the young miss. Up in the front curves, a pleasing back dip, the fitted waist, and soft shirring besides a pleasing finish in the band trimming combine to make this unique style. Handkerchief lawn in gay colorings of orange, tan and blue on a white background, was chosen in this instance. White organdy was selected for the trimming piped with orange. This is a good style for shifon and for taffeta.

The pattern is cut in 7 sizes: 8, 10, 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20 years. To make the dress for a 16 year size will require 3 1/2 yards of material 35 inches wide. The facings of contrasting material will require 3/4 yard 39 inches wide cut crosswise. To finish with bias banding as pictured in the large view will require 4 1/4 yards 1 1/2 inch wide.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 15c in silver or stamps.

A PRETTY SUMMER FROCK

6852 Here is a sleeveless model in which short shoulder capelets take the place of sleeves. The skirt sections are shaped below the hips to form panels which curve upward at the sides, above flare sections that supply graceful fullness to the dress. Slight blousing is effected at the side of the front and in the back above the belt. Printed crepe in black and white with black for the capelets jabot and belt, is here pictured. Printed chiffon or handkerchief linen is also suggested.

The pattern is cut in 5 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. To make the dress for a 38 inch size will require 4 1/4 yards of 39 inch material. The capelets, jabot and belt of contrasting material will require 3/4 yard 39 inches wide. To finish capelets, neck and the curved seam in front will require 7 1/4 yards 1 1/2 inch wide. The width of the dress at the lower edge with fullness extended is 22-3 yards.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 15c in silver or stamps.

A POPULAR STYLE

6874. Here is just the right kind of a play suit for an active small boy. The one-piece front is closed over an underlap at the centre. The body portion of the back is buttoned to the waist portion, making a very convenient closing. Pockets are inserted at opening in the sides. The sleeve may be finished in wrist length, or short as in the large view. A small rolled collar completes the neck finish. Serviceable firm wash fabrics are recommended for this little suit, as is also pongee, jersey and flannel.

The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 2, 3, 4 and 5 years. To make the suit in a 4 year size will require 1 1/2 yard of 35 inch material. For collar and cuffs of contrasting material 1/4 yard 35 inches wide is required.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 15c in silver or stamps.

FASHION BOOK NOTICE

Send 15c in silver or stamps for our UP-TO-DATE SPRING & SUMMER 1930 BOOK OF FASHIONS, showing color plates, and containing 500 designs of Ladies', Misses' and Children's Patterns, a CONCISE AND COMPREHENSIVE ARTICLE ON DRESSMAKING, ALSO SOME POINTS FOR THE NEEDLE (illustrating 30 of the various, simple stitches) all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

Send 15c for any pattern shown on this page. Be sure to state size as given above. Address FLETCHER'S FARMING, Hondo, Texas.

The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: Small, 34-36; Medium, 38-40; Large, 42-44; and Extra Large, 46-48 inches bust measure. To make the apron for a Medium size will require 4 1-2 yards of material 32 inches wide or wider. To finish with bias binding as shown in the large view, will require 8 1/2 yards 1 1/2 inch wide.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 15c in silver or stamps.

A PRACTICAL POULTRY LIBRARY

Course of Study in Successful Poultry Keeping

is offered to all who are working earnestly to earn a good livelihood and to substantially increase their profits from their poultry flocks. The secret of greater success and more profit is in knowing what to do and when and how to do it. To avoid the mistakes of others and take advantage of the methods that have been tried and proven, is the only short cut. This information can be found in its most complete form in Reliable Poultry Journal and the R.P.J. Poultry Library.

Can You Answer These Questions? Do You Know:

1. How to identify your best layers?
2. What is "Prepotency"?
3. What is the difference between a breed and a variety?
4. How many hours of artificial light should hens have daily?
5. What is the actual difference between white and brown eggs?
6. Why is yellow better than white corn?
7. How were Rhode Island Reds originated?
8. What direction should a brooder house face?

The Correct Answers

to these and thousands of other interesting and vital questions on poultry raising may be found in R. P. J. poultry books. Some of the most popular of these books are listed below.

ZEN of the Y. D.

of Novel of the Foothills

By ROBERT STEAD

Author of "The Cow Puncher" and "The Homesteaders"—"Neighbors," etc.

occupied quite different spheres in her regard. To be sure, Grant was a very likeable man, but he was not eligible as a husband, and she could not marry two, in any case. Zen entertained no girlish delusions about there being only one man in the world. On the contrary, she was convinced that there were very many men in the world, and, among the better types, there was, perhaps, not so much to choose between them. Grant would undoubtedly be a good husband within his means; so would Transley, and his means were greater. The blue-prints of the new house in town had not been without their effect. It was a different prospect from being a foreman's wife on a ranch. Her father would never hear of it.

So she busied herself with preparations for the great event, and what preparations they were! "Zen," her father had said, "for once the lid is off. Go the limit!" She took him at his word. There were many trips to town, and activities about the old ranch buildings such as they had never known since Jessie Wilson came to finish Y.D.'s up-bringing, nor even then. The good word spread throughout the foothill country and down over the prairies, and many a lazy cloud of dust lay along the November hillsides as the women folk of neighboring ranches came to pay their respects and gratify their curiosity. Zen had treasures to show which sent them home with new standards of extravagance.

JAPANESE GRACEFULNESS.

The delegation of charming girls, sent to thank our country for the relief we sent to Japan in 1923, is one of the finest examples of courtesy in all history. Japan did not need to cement further the cordial friendship between our two nations; but if she had been under that necessity she could have chosen no abler set of ambassadors. It is strange that our country, possessing so many women of wisdom, tact and graciousness, has not yet placed one of them on such international commissions as those that have recently been seeking the lessening of the waste and terrors of war.

We charge our forefathers with sternness, yet the word "grace" is found far more frequently in their writings than in ours. They were in love with the grace of God as shown through His Son. That grace is the most fruitful source of graciousness in a human life.

"The words of a wise man's mouth are gracious." Read ECCLESIASTES 10: 8-15. (Copyrighted by Christian Herald)

QUIHI NOTES.

"This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ has come into the world to save sinners." I Tim. 1: 15.

At 9 o'clock Sunday morning Sunday school and Bible class will be held in Bethlehem Lutheran church.
All are welcome.

Divine service in the English tongue will be held in Bethlehem Lutheran church Sunday morning at 9 o'clock. Please bring your English Bible to this service. All are cordially invited to this and all services in this church.

The Fourth of July celebration at Quihi last week was a success in every respect. The Boehle Grove had been cleaned up nicely for the occasion and though old Sol was on duty all day an abundance of cooling ade afforded comfort to all on the grounds. The attendance was large, perhaps larger than at former Fourth of July celebrations. Many families enjoyed their dinners in the shade of the trees, while others appeased their holiday hunger with excellently cured smoked meat, bread and pickles and such good things as the refreshment stand afforded. The program of the day was excellent and every number on it was rendered well and added interest and afforded entertainment and instruction to the many who had assembled about the grand stand. After the program many remained for a long time on the grounds for luncheon and for social intercourse with old friends and neighbors. The day was indeed a very interesting and pleasant day for the Quihi community and the many friends who turned out and joined in this celebration. The committee which arranged this celebration surely merits much credit.

HONDO SOME GREASY TOWN.

Following an experiment of some weeks ago with oiling certain frequently traveled streets in Hondo with crude oil, those the length of several blocks were given a regular power bath the early part of this week. The effect is to keep down the dust and relieve the glare from the sun shining on the white gravel, but there sprinkled in such profusion it creates a sticky mess that adheres to everything passing over it, and filled with particular about keeping their pretty cars clean with consternation.
Soon, however, as it has time to dried in and become less adhesive the annoyance will no doubt be forgotten in the relief it will afford from the dust and glare.

In this connection, it might be stated that a visitor from Bandera last week was so favorably impressed with the effect of oiling Hondo's streets that two truck loads of Medina County's crude oil was bought for use in Bandera, and Mr. N. C.
Johnson hauled the oil to that town last Friday.

KONJOLA ENDED TWO YEARS
OF STOMACH MISERY.

Again This New and Different Medicine Shows Why It Has Become Famous.

MRS. BERTIE COWAN.

Strange, but absolutely true—Kon-jola, the new and different medicine seems at the very peak of its powers when pitted against the stubborn cases that have held on with bulldog-like tenacity. Take for example, the experience of Mrs. Bertie Cowan, 614 West Second St., Ft. Worth, Texas, who says:

"For two years the lightest of foods caused misery. At times I had to gasp for breath, and I belched up bits of undigested food. I took soda constantly. My kidneys gave me trouble, too. I had backaches and had to rise many times at night. But Kon-jola ended all this, and today my back is free from pain, my nerves are steady, I sleep soundly and wake up every morning rested and refreshed."
Thus Konjola works, swiftly yet surely. It is strongly recommended however, that a complete treatment of from six to eight bottles be used if best results are to be obtained.
Konjola is sold in Hondo, Texas, at W. H. Windrow's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Under The Sterling Plan
Taxes Will Be Reduced
In Medina County

THE TAXPAYERS OF MEDINA COUNTY, INCLUDING THE FARMERS, HOME-OWNERS
AND BUSINESS MEN ARE NOW ASSESSED AN AVERAGE TAX OF APPROXIMATELY 30 CENTS ON THE $100.00 VALUATION TO PAY FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF STATE HIGH-WAYS, A TAX THAT SHOULD BE BORNE BY THE STATE.

UNDER THE STERLING TAX REDUCTION PLAN THE STATE WILL ASSUME THIS OBLIGATION AND PAY FOR IT OUT OF THE GASOLINE TAX.

THE STERLING TAX REDUCTION PLAN WILL PLACE THE BURDEN OF PAYING FOR STATE ROADS YOUR COUNTY HAS BUILT ON THE TRAFFIC, WHERE IT BELONGS.

THE STERLING PLAN WILL PROVIDE THE STATE WITH ADEQUATE FUNDS TO BUILD A CONNECTED STATE SYSTEM OF HARD SURFACED, ALL-WEATHER HIGHWAYS
AND FOR PAVING THE GAPS OVER THE STATE WITHOUT CONTY AID AND WITHOUT IN-CREASING THE GASOLINE TAX ONE PENNY.

THE STERLING TAX REDUCTION PLAN PROVIDES THAT NO PROPERTY TAX SHALL EVER BE LEVIED TO CARRY OUT ITS PUR-POSES.

Vote for R. S. Sterling
AND

R. S. STERLING
Houston
Candidate for Governor

Explanatory Note.—The estimated reduction in the tax rate has been calculated in accordance with the best available information. The exact figure will depend upon varying conditions in each county.
But that a material reduction of the ad valorem taxes would be affected under the plan is certain.

EDITORIALS

The chances for graft and favoritism in the disposal of the proceeds of a $300,000,000 bond issue alone should cause the people of the state to refuse to sanction it.

Do you want to do something for us? Then turn to page two and see "what $1.00 will do." Take advantage of one or the other of our special offers and please us as well as profit yourself.

Right now Texas people are feasting on an abundance of fruits and vegetables. The canning, preserving, drying and processing of the surplus will go a long way towards reducing the high cost of living.

The goat men of Southwest Texas will hold a big show and sale at Rock Springs July 15, 16 and 17. Besides private sales of stock there will be many amusement features to entertain the goat men and their families.

With our statute books, both state and national, already cluttered up with prohibition laws that are not enforced and which few respect, it is the last word in inexpediency to propose at this time more laws of this nature. What this country needs is fewer laws that interfere with a man's natural rights and better enforcement of those laws that protect him in the enjoyment of those rights.

Whatever else one may think of Tom Love, it must be admitted that he is a clever politician. Running as the only Hooverite in the race it is his reasonable conclusion that he will poll the entire Hoover vote. Knowing how that bunch usually flock together, we expect to see his hopes largely realized. In that event it would be no surprise to see him beat the entire field. Wouldn't that be some joke on Texas Democracy?

Pennsylvania recently nominated a bunch of dregs as Republican candidates for state offices. Their nomination is equivalent to election. The dry cohorts of the country made a great show of rejoicing over this "moral" victory. But before their shouting was over Morrow was nominated for the Senate from New Jersey on the plea for the repeal of the 18th Amendment. And the antis who have grown accustomed to rejoicing over small favors are equally happy. To the fellow on the sidelines it looks very much like the pros are satisfied with their law and the other with their bootleg and home brew, and both care more for the personality of their leaders than for the principles involved—all of which looks bad for law and order either way around.

Every day in every way it becomes more apparent that the national administration gold-bricked the American farmer with its so called "farm relief." Credit is a good thing when applied in the right way for the right purpose, but so long as there are borrowers and lenders the lenders will control the borrowers—for pay day must come. So when the government tried to "relieve" the farmers by lending them money instead of putting them on an equal footing with industrialists by either taking "protection" away from industry or protecting agriculture by means of the debenture plan, it merely created more trouble for the farmer. This is evidenced by the continued drop in the price of all farm commodities despite the efforts of the "farm-reliefers."

SAVE WHAT IS PRODUCED.

A fair small grain crop is being threshed in the grain-producing sections of the state.

A good crop of corn is practically assured all over the state.

A good hay crop is in the making.

And with favorable weather conditions—such as will keep the insects in check and promote rapid fruiting of the plants—we may make a good cotton crop.

The only disturbing feature of the present agricultural outlook is the prevailing low prices for all farm and ranch products.

It seems that in spite of all the promised "relief" from the government, we must expect a period of low prices for the things now growing on the farms of the country.

Naturally that will make money scarcer and curtail the farmer's buying power.

In the face of such a condition, the thrifty farmer will reflect that with his buying power thus limited it becomes all the more important for him to husband all those products that can be utilized on the farm.

With plenty of grain and forage it will not become necessary for him to dispose of his live stock at a forced sale.

And while scarcity of money may mean more or less hardship and compel some disagreeable self-denial, if we can weather the time of stress without having to make forced sale

THE AGRICULTURAL WRITERS' CONFERENCE.

Up to the time of going to press with this paper, the program for the Agricultural Writers' Conference of Texas, to be held at A. & M. College the last of July and first of August, 1930, in connection with the annual Farmers' Short Course, has not yet been completed.

Those who have been fortunate enough to attend these conferences in the past, however, need no assurance that it will be an interesting and profitable meeting, and will be glad to avail themselves of another opportunity to attend and enjoy the hospitality of this great institution.

Aside from the pleasure and profit from association with men and women engaged in one's same line of work, a visit to the college and a first-hand knowledge of the great service it is rendering to the young men and women of our state is an inspiration to all who attend.

BEWARE YOUR OWN NET.

Fletcher's Farming, able state rights advocate, published at Hondo, prints the following:

From all evil keep thyself first unspoiled

If you'd see the reforms for which you've toiled!

It does look like reformers nearly always get entangled in their own nets.—Fred Robinson in Waco News-Tribune.

The scheme vouched for by two prominent candidates for governor of the state at the present time to refund all outstanding county road bonds from funds to be secured by a state road bond issue of several million dollars is good sucker bait that will catch a lot of fellows that do not know that nothing is to be gained by taking money out of one of your pockets and putting it into another. The tax payers will have to pay the tax no matter how it is manipulated.

of our products the price will soonest swing back to normal and bring back to the industry its normal measure of prosperity.

In other words, instead of a low-price period being a time for indifference and waste of the farm's resources, it is a time that warrants the cleanest harvest and the most careful husbanding of every thing produced to the end that the farm be kept as near self-sustaining as possible and the necessity for ready money kept at the minimum.

No farmer was ever broke with plenty of bread and meat on his own farm, and the way to be sure of that is to save every thing in its season that the farm produces regardless of prevailing market price at the time.

That done, living costs are reduced to the minimum and you have a variety of products with which to take advantage of the first favorable reaction of the market.

The greatest handicap to American agriculture is the farmer's forced necessity to market his produce at harvest time because of his inability to control in the matter of its disposal.

That makes him the victim of produce speculators and accounts for the ever recurring market slumps that accompany every harvest.

The only way to overcome the difficulty is to think of farming first as a mode of living—and make that mode independent by making the living more nearly at home.

WOULD GIVE FARM RELIEF A CHANCE.

Fletcher's State Rights Farming, published way down in Hondo, Southwest Texas, has the following facts regarding "farm relief":

Plenty of feed will enable the farm to produce livestock, poultry, eggs, milk and butter to the limits of the farm's capacity and enlarge the possibilities of a more profitable market while reducing the cost of living on the farm. This way lies real farm relief—and the only relief the farmer can hope for in the near future.

Still, it might be well to give the present plans a chance, especially as regards co-operative and orderly marketing. And the plan suggested by Farmer Fletcher can not cause any harm, in any event, as all know he is anxious for betterment of farming conditions.—Fred Robinson in Waco News-Tribune.

FROM INDIVIDUAL TO SUBJECT.

A famous satirist says government is the enemy of well-disposed and decent men.

This is an exaggerated statement. But it is undeniable that in recent years government has meddled with increasing persistence in the business and social lives of citizens. More and more laws tell us what we must do and what we must not do. And the clutching hand of the bureaucrat feels its way into human activity. Public servants tend to become the masters of citizens who hire them.

Government should protect the lives of its citizens, provide roads, schools, armaments and administer justice. Once it steps beyond the essential functions of governing it becomes oppressive.

It is time the voters stepped up and showed their power, before we have a government "of, by and for the politician."—Selected.

He who receives a good turn should never forget it; he who does one should never remember it.—Charron.

A STRANGE CONFUSION.

The present gubernatorial campaign in Texas is a strange medley of confusion.

With eleven candidates in the field, and with the election only a few days off, not one of them has shown enough leadership to attract to his standard any preponderant body of the electorate; and it looks at this time as if the people will go to the polls with the single purpose of voting to defeat some one, two or three individuals and caring little as to who of the others wins.

In this way, we will be voting not to secure our choice but to exercise our prejudice.

And at best, our next governor must content himself in the knowledge that he is only the second choice.

And to further complicate the matter, if we fail to win in defeating our "pet peeve," under the rulings of our supreme court, we are under no obligation, moral or otherwise, to vote for the nominee at the general election.

That may result in Texas having a Republican governor after next January.

And after all there could be worse things than a Republican governor in Texas—a Democratic apostate, for instance.

Tom Love boasts of his apostasy! So out of all this confusion you know our pet opposition!

A TAX WARNING.

President Coolidge points out in a recent statement that after eight years of applying business methods to the Federal Government, extravagances and useless expenditures have been eliminated, to the extent that three reductions have been made in tax rates and nearly $7,000,000,000 has been cut off the national debt.

"It would be a great mistake," he said, "to suppose that we can continue our national prosperity with the attendant blessings which it confers upon the people, unless we continue to insist upon constructive economy in government. The margin between prosperity and depression is always very small. A decrease of less than 10 per cent in our national income would produce a deficit in the present budget."

"The costs of state and local governments are rapidly mounting. From $3,900,000,000 in 1921, the National Industrial Conference Board estimates that they reached $7,931,000,000 in 1927. This is such a heavy drain on the earnings of the people that it is the greatest menace to the continuance of prosperity. It is a red flag warning us of the danger of depression and a repetition of the disaster which overtook the country in the days of 1920."—Selected.

LEAVE PRIVATE BUSINESS

"If it is desirable to protect the people in their freedom and independence, if it is desirable to avoid the blighting effect of monopoly, supported by the money of the taxpayer, if it is desirable to prevent the existence of a privileged class, if it is desirable to shield public officials from the influence of propaganda and the acute pressure of entrenched selfishness, if it is desirable to keep the Government unencumbered and clean, with an eye single to the public service, we shall leave the conduct of our private business with the individual, where it belongs, and not undertake to unload it on the Government."—Former President Calvin Coolidge.

THE CALL OF THE SEA.

By A. S. Draper.

"Froned palms—The motion of the water—The music of the waves—warm sea-mists—And a woman."

—Bernie Babcock.

Again there comes to me,
A message from the sea;
Rich scented with perfume,
It tells of other lands
Where rarest flowers bloom,
And mystic coral strands,
And "froned palms" that sway
Above an opal bay,
Where birds of paradise
And peacocks seem to vie
The colors which arise
And tinge the western skies,
When sable night draws nigh.

I hear the lapping waves;
They wash a thousand graves,
They creep into my soul
And whisper many things.
They tell me of a goal,
And hidden wealth of kings,—
"The music of the waves,"
The singing of the slaves
On that far distant isle,
Comes drifting back. With glee;
A maiden's happy smile,—
"The warm mists of the sea"
Now eager beckon me.

The white sails on the bay,
The breaker's silver spray,
The night-birds' noisy call,
The heavy scented air,
The rising wind,—and lull
That is a warning there,
The down-pour of the rain;—
Shrill cries of fear and pain,—
A blinding flash, and roar.
The world seems rent in twain;—
Then it is gone; before
We scarcely that or knew,
The angry sky was smiling, blue.

Yes, the call of the sea,
In fancy brings to me
"The froned palms" again,
The forms of women fair,
The tempest and the rain,
Perfumes; strange, rich and rare,
Coral, birds, and flowers,—
And of the happy hours,
Spent on that isle afar—
A year of paradise,
Where smiling angels are—
Fair maids with dreamy eyes—
Tall palms, and azure skies.

THE SUNSHINE POET.

By Mrs. Elizabeth Giles Winn.

In fancy you weave a sunny song,
'Tis only in real life I belong.
If only Fate would extend to me
The beautiful graces she gave to thee
I might in time leave life's rugged dark
To join in your melodies, wonderful lark.

Through years you have won
While I've only begun,
But I'll sing along life's way,
Hoping to lift worn hearts each day—
Heights so great I desire to scale,
Not for fame, but for humanity frail.

Teach me as you lead the way
A touch of feeling through hardened clay, Inspire the highest type of worth to be
In magic power, life's greatest symphony,
Thus from the murkiest night appears the light
When enters your sweet songs of might.

Continue in sunshine, king of rhyme,
O'er life's rugged way your thoughts sublime;
Though we may sing in different key
Our notes will merge in melody
You as a light on a far away hill,
I searching deep in life's treadmill.

THE TRAVELERS.

By Fletcher Davis.

Two travelers fared them forth on the same highway
On a journey that led them through the whole long day;
And what was a pleasant path by the morn's first light
Was a tortuous and treacherous road by night.

And the gentle breezes that cooled the noon-day heat
Became as a howling tempest that madly beat
About them, like angry demons let loose from hell,
As the ghostly shadows of night around them fell!

And the calm and beauty of a summer's sunset
Was soon forgotten in a night as black as jet;
And the radiant wealth of its purple and gold
Was lost in the ev'nings biting, shivering cold!

But along that dark and tortuous, stone-strewn way,
Near which many an unseen though gaping chasm lay,
Out of the night's dismal gloom and the storm's fierce wrath,
One patiently picked for himself a cautious path.

And though sore and bleeding and bruised and almost spent
Came by dawn's fair light to a vale of sweet content;
And in the calm joy that came with the welcome rest
Soon forgot the pain that had him so sore distressed!

But the other, impatient, the road failed to keep
And an unguarded step plunged him down a chasm deep!

MISUNDERSTOOD.

By Rev. G. E. Pentecost.

Misunderstood!
Misunderstood!
Comes the sad refrain!
And ah, the shame
That fairest names
Are oft defamed,
And hearts are pained,
By those who should Have understood!

Misunderstood,
And bad or good,
They struggle on
Amid the throng
With hope most gone!
With plaintive song
They trudge along,
Because they are Misunderstood!

Misunderstood!
Misunderstood!
And why, oh why
This plaintive cry?
Yon passers-by
With weary eyes
Would do and die,
If they were not
Misunderstood!

HIS VOICE.

Mrs. Vida B. Butcher

God is my health, my strength, my all.
When dark clouds roll
I hear Him call,
In th' lightning's flash,—
I hear His voice,
When the sun shines brightly,
I then rejoice.

THE JOURNEY OF LIFE.

By R. L. Campbell.

As the sap of life courses through our veins
In the early spring of youth
How happy is life, how few are our pains
Although the world be uncouth!
Alternate follies are given full sway
And licentious passions burn,
The golden hours we then cast away,
The passing of time we spurn.

But when the sunlight falls with burning rays
On the laughing brook and rill
We sober a bit from our reckless ways
And rest on top of the hill
The time we have lost we try to retrieve,
But our effort is in vain!
Then over this loss we begin to grieve
And meet with the autumn rain.

And then when the clouds have all passed away
And the sun again we view
It recalls the scenes of that other day
When life was budding and new.
Then as the rays of the sun fade away
O'er the top of mountains high
Our lisping tongue is quite ready to say
That sad parting word,—Goodbye.

THE SOUL'S CRY.

Ethel Osborn Hill.

"There is no God," the skeptic said,
But when he stood beside his dead,
And life was dark and hope had fled,
With bitter tears he bowed his head
And cried—
"Oh, help me, God!"

"There is no God," cries scoffing youth,
With voice and manner wild, uncouth;
"My life shall be my own, forsooth!"
Life laid him low—and then in truth
He cried—
"Oh, help me, God!"

"There is no God!" In black despair Men cry; "All life is unfair!
To seek that vast unknown I'll dare."
But pause beside the cross, and there Entreat—
"Oh, help me, God!"

And when shall come the close of day
And all Life's burdens down we lay,
The bright or dark has been the way
What else, I wonder, can we pray
But this—
"Oh, help me, God!"

LEST YOU BE JUDGED.

Juliette Frazier.

When you meet with one suspected
Of some secret deed of shame,
And for this by all rejected
As a soul of evil fame,
Guard your every look and action,
Speak no word of heartless blame,
For vile slander's foul detraction
Yet may soil your own good name.

When you meet with one pursuing Ways the lost have entered in,
One who fell to his undoing
By his recklessness and sin,
Think! if placed in his condition
Would a kind word be in vain,
Or a look of cold suspicion
Win you back to truth again?

There are spots that bear no flowers.
Not because the soil is bad,
But because the summer's showers
Never made that landscape glad;
Better have an act that's kindly Sometimes treated with disdain,
Than by judging others blindly
Doom the innocent to pain.

ADAMS COMPANY ELEVATOR TO SACK CORN.

Mr. M. A. Keller of the Adams Co.
elevator informs us that they will arrange to sack much of their corn in special Mexican trade; labeling these sacks with a trade mark; the "Killer King" is looking out for large and better markets, as his trade increases. Securing markets for our products is one of the most important things and M. A. Keller has done more for Devine than any other man in this line. Everyone knows that our soil, climate and water we raise the stuff. The main thing the market and Mat Keller will be mighty near finding that market, if it exists. He is buying beans from Pearsall, Lytle and other places, every day.

meanders of the Medina River along its bank 50 varas in width for a good road bed until it intersects a line running due North from the beginning point of this survey Thence South with said line to the place of beginning, less land heretofore sold by us amounting to about 8 acres, more or less, by deed dated 7th of April, 1926, recorded in Vol.
A Book No. 77 pages 566-567; Filed for record April 8, 1926, recorded 12th of April, 1926.

Save and except from said tract of land all of the following described parcels of land, which parcels are excepted and reserved from said foreclosure, to-wit: All those certain lots and parcels of land which plaintiff has heretofore released from said vendor's lien as appears from plain-tiff's original petition, which lots and parcels are described on the recorded map or plat of a portion of said lands which is recorded in Vol. 1 page 13

Also 2 66-100ths acres out of William's Park as designated on said plat.

There was also re-conveyed to plaintiff by said defendant, Medlake Development Company, a block of said land by deed of record in the Deed Records of Medina County,
Texas, in Book 83 on page 211.
And for further description of the land conveyed by Albert Reitzer and wife to the said Medlake Development Company reference is here made to the record of said deed in the Deed Records of Medina County, Texas, in Book A No. 77 on pages 566-567 and levied upon as the property of Med-lake Development Company, a corporation, and that on the first Tuesday in August, 1930, the same being the 5th day of said month, at the Court House door, of Medina County, in the Town of Hondo, Texas, between the hours of 10 A. M. and 4
P. M., by virtue of said levy and said
Order of Sale I will sell said above described Real Estate at public venue, for cash, to the highest bidder, as the property of said Medlake Development Company, a corporation.

And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in the Hondo Anvil Herald, a newspaper published in Medina County.
